Gender, Culture and Society: A Look from Tribal community Perspective

Nilakantha Panigrahi, Ph.D

Associate Professor and Head

Dept of Anthropology and Tribal Development

Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya (A Central University)

Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh

Presentation coverage

- Some conceptual clarity
- Gender issues: Some theoretical reflections
- Tribal society: A stage in social evolution
- Tribal situation in India: A socio-cultural perspective.
- Reality and Perception of Gender-Culture and Society in tribal society.

Introduction

- Indian society is very old, complex or plural by nature.
- The contemporary India carries co-existence of different social evolutions like hunting, gathering, shifting cultivator, nomad, trader, artisan, settled agriculturist, industrial worker, wage labourer etc.
- It is also a country with a small but meaningful tribal population.
- The religions and faith groups like Hinduism, Christianity, Islam, Buddhists of the world are also found in India. The composite culture of India has provided a pattern of pluralism.

Some conceptual issues

- Gender- The state of being male or female in cultural or social context. Sex tend to refer to a biological differences, while Gender tends to refer to culture or social ones.
- Society- It is a largest permanent group in which individuals have common interests, common territory and common mode of life.
- Culture -It is a symbiotic and learned aspect of human society and is socially rather than biologically transmitted. E.B Tylor define (1871) 'culture is commonly used as a complex whole which includes knowledge, belief, art, morals, law and customs. It includes both material and non-material aspects of culture, transmitted by teaching and tradition.

Tribal women contd....

- Till date social scientists largely believe that all the societies are male dominated, while anthropologists particularly argued that hunting- gathering and horticultural societies were based on egalitarian principles (Sacks, 1979, Sanday lbid).
- As regard the status of tribal women:
one interpretation propagate that tribal women enjoy their socio, economic, political and cultural rights in their society.
The second perspective looks at the status of tribal women from constitutional safeguards and measures, guaranteeing human rights and mutual respect (Xaxa,2004,2009)

Thus, It is observed that very little recognition has been given by the State to customary law and women rights over land, knowing the fact very well that

"Women constitute half the world's population, contributes nearly two-thirds of its total hours in household and economic activities of the family, receive one-tenth of the world's income and less than one hundredth of the property."
(The United Nation's Report in 1980)

Social justice demands that a woman should be treated equally both in the economic and the social sphere. The exclusion of daughters from participating in property ownership (In operation) merely by reason of their sex is unjust.
(174th LAW COMMISSION REPORT)

Review of Literature

- In first half of 20th century the major works of women anthropologists like Margaret Mead (1928), and Ruth Benedict have produced extensive study-based documents on Polynesians and native Americans on women issues largely influenced by culture and not only by biology as previously believed .
- The western feminist looked at anthropology to understand women's situation in different social, political and economic orders, causes of subordination in a much broader perspective.
- Anthropology has contributed (Moore,1994:10), that gender is socially constructed rather than a naturally given category.
- Anthropologists build the theory that women are allocated with nature and men with culture (Ortner,1974), and women are linked to the domestic sphere as opposed to men linked with the public sphere (Rosaldo,1980).

Inheritance of properties among Hindus and Muslims

- Among the Hindus Under Mitakshara school women as incoming wives were only entitled to maintenance and unmarried daughters, entitled to marriage expenses and gifts.
- Bombay (Mayukha) sub-school of Mitakhara allowed an absolute estate to the daughter (unmarried one or returns when she became widow)
- Dayabhaga school recognises the widow and her daughters as heirs over ancestral estate.
- Among the Muslim daughters and widows inherit property: daughter's share is half that of a son, and a widow could only receive one-fourth of her husbands estate if child less or one- eighth if there was a child or a son's descendants.

State Policies on Land in Odisha: and the status of customary practices of Tribal Women

- The Orissa (Scheduled Areas) Transfer of Immovable Properties (by Scheduled Tribes) Regulations, 2 of 1956 as amended in 2002.
- Orissa (Scheduled Areas) Money Lenders Regulation, 1967 as amended in 2001
- Section 22 and 23 of Orissa Land Reforms Act. 1960
- The OLRA 1960, the gender inequalities are very much clear. The Act does not mention the order of the devolution at all. Married daughters are exempted from the inheritance. The men subsumes women's rights. Husbands were not taking permission from the wife for the dealing of land.
- In post 1970 period attempts are being made to bring women as the coparceners on land rights, but yet to be succeeded.

Cont...

- Orissa Prevention of Land Encroachment Act, 1972
- Policy to tackle the problems of Pre-1980 and post-1980 Forest Encroachments and declaration of forest villages as revenue villages.
- Land donations under Bhoodan
- Policy on Rehabilitation of Tribals (R&R Policy 2006) affected by construction of irrigation projects or establishment of industries etc.
- Mo Jami – Mo Diha' (My land – My homestead) campaign.
- Vasundhara
- Land distribution under Forest Rights Act (FRA)
- Under the Joint Patta Holding (GoO 2000) the Ceiling Surplus of Govt land is to be distributed in the name of both wife and husband .
- Women are the coparceners when the land being given either for the homestead or for the agriculture purposes and at least 40 per cent of the Govt land should go to the hands of women.

SUPREME COURT ORDER ON TRIBAL WOMAN PROPERTY RIGHT

- In Madhu Kishwar & others vs. State of Bihar & others (1996) 5 SCC 125)
The Court declined to be persuaded by the argument that giving the women rights in property would lead to fragmentation of lands:
- It recommended that 'Right to property of the tribal women's means the right to livelihood of the family'.
- Accordingly it was held that the tribal women would succeed to the estate of their parent, brother, husband as heirs by succession and inherit the property with equal share with male heir with absolute rights as per the general principles of Hindu Succession Act, 1956, as amended and interpreted by the Court and equally of the Indian Succession Act to tribal Christian.

Basic important Questions:

- Why women in tribal community enjoy greater respect in their socio-cultural life?
- What are the factors which are responsible for the economic empowerment of the tribal women?
- Which factors influence the political empowerment processes of the tribal women?
- What are the institutional and policy factors which influence the development of the tribal women?
