Post COVID management protocol

Background

COVID – 19 disease caused by SARS-CoV-2 Coronavirus is relatively a new disease, with fresh information being known on a dynamic basis about the natural history of the disease, especially in terms of post-recovery events.

After acute COVID-19 illness, recovered patients may continue to report wide variety of signs and symptoms including fatigue, body ache, cough, sore throat, difficulty in breathing, etc. As of now there is limited evidence of post-COVID sequelae and further research is required and is being actively pursued. A holistic approach is required for follow up care and well-being of all post-COVID recovering patients.

Scope

This document provides an integrated holistic approach for managing patients who have recovered enough from COVID for care at home. It is not meant to be used as preventive / curative therapy. The recovery period is likely to be longer for patients who suffered from more severe form of the disease and those with pre-existing illness.

Post-COVID Follow Up Protocol

(i) At individual level

- Continue COVID appropriate behaviour (use of mask, hand & respiratory hygiene, physical distancing).
- Drink adequate amount of warm water (if not contra-indicated).
- Take immunity promoting AYUSH medicine (details of medicines and their dosage is at Annexure I) – To be practiced and prescribed by a qualified practitioner of AYUSH.
- If health permits, regular household work to be done. Professional work to be resumed in graded manner.

- Mild/ moderate exercise
 - Daily practice of Yogasana, Pranayama and Meditation, as much as health permits or as prescribed.
 - Breathing exercises as prescribed by treating physician.
 - Daily morning or evening walk at a comfortable pace as tolerated.
- Balanced nutritious diet, preferably easy to digest freshly cooked soft diet.
- Have adequate sleep and rest.
- Avoid smoking and consumption of alcohol.
- Take regular medications as advised for COVID and also for managing comorbidities, if any. Doctor to be always informed about all medicines that the individual is taking (allopathic/AYUSH) so as to avoid prescription interaction.
- Self-health monitoring at home - temperature, blood pressure, blood sugar (especially, if diabetic), pulse oximetry etc. (if medically advised)
- If there is persistent dry cough / sore throat, do saline gargles and take steam inhalation. The addition of herbs/spices for gargling/steam inhalation (refer to Annexure I). Cough medications, should be taken on advice of medical doctor or qualified practitioner of Ayush.
- Look for early warning signs like high grade fever, breathlessness, SpO₂ < 95%, unexplained chest pain, new onset of confusion, focal weakness.

(ii) At the level of community

- Recovered individuals to share their positive experiences with their friends and relatives using social media, community leaders, opinion leaders, religious leaders for creating awareness, dispelling myths and stigma.
- Take support of community based self-help groups, civil society organizations, and qualified professionals for recovery and rehabilitation process (medical, social, occupational, livelihood).
- Seek psycho-social support from peers, community health workers, counsellor. If required seek mental health support service.
- Participate in group sessions of Yoga, Meditation etc. while taking all due precautions like physical distancing.

(iii) In healthcare facility setting

- The first follow-up visit (physical/telephonic) should be within 7 days after discharge, preferably at the hospital where he/she underwent treatment.
- Subsequent treatment/follow up visits may be with the nearest qualified allopathic/AYUSH practitioner/medical facility of other systems of medicine. Poly-therapy is to be avoided due to potential for unknown drug-drug interaction, which may lead to Serious Adverse Events (SAE) or Adverse Effects (AE).
- The patients who had undergone home isolation, if they complain of persisting symptoms, will visit the nearest health facility.
- Severe cases requiring critical care support will require more stringent follow up.

Immunity promoting AYUSH medicine (to be prescribed only by practioners permitted under law for prescribing the medicine/therapy under specific stream)

Ayush Kwath (150 ml; 1 cup) daily, Samshamani vati twice a day 500 mg (1 gm per day) or Giloy powder 1 -3 grams with luke warm water for 15 days, Ashwagandha 500 mg twice a day (1 gm per day) or Ashwagandha powder 1-3 grams twice daily for 15 days and Amla fruit one daily/Amla powder 1-3 grams once daily.

- Mulethi powder (in case of dry cough) 1- 3 gram with luke warm water twice daily
- Warm Milk with ½ teaspoonful Haldi in (morning/evening)
- Gargling with turmeric and salt
- Chyawanprash 1 teaspoonful (5 mg) once daily in morning (as per directions from Vaidya)

It is also suggested by the Ministry of AYUSH that the use of Chyawanprash in the morning (1 teaspoonful) with luke warm water/milk is highly recommended (under the direction of Registered Ayurveda physician) as in the clinical practice Chyawanprash is believed to be effective in post-recovery period.

Risk Factors

- Several factors put India in danger of experiencing rapid spread of HIV .
- These risk factors include:
 1. Unsafe sex.
 2. MSM (Men having Sex with Men).
 3. IDU (Injection Drug User).
 4. Migration & Mobility.
 5. Low status of women.
 6. Widespread stigma.

Who to test	When to test
Pregnant women and male partners	At first antenatal care visit Re-test in third trimester or peripartum Offer partner testing
Infants and children <18 months old	At 4–6 weeks for all whose mothers are HIV Positive or status uncertain; Final status after 18 months and/or when breastfeeding ends
Children	Establish HIV status for all health contacts Tell their HIV status & parents or caregiver's status
Adolescents	Integrate into all health care encounters. Annually if sexually active; with new sexual partners

NEEDS

- Continuous surveillance.
- Awareness programmes.
- Increased health care allocations.
- Identification of high risk groups.

- Among the States/UTs, in 2017, Mizoram has shown the highest estimated adult HIV prevalence of 2.04%(1.57-2.56), followed by Manipur (1.43%, 1.17-1.75), Nagaland (1.15%, 0.92-1.41), Telangana (0.70%, 0.50-0.95) and Andhra Pradesh (0.63%, 0.47-0.85).

History

- The history of the HIV and AIDS epidemic began in illness, fear and death as the world faced a new and unknown virus. However, scientific advances, such as the development of antiretroviral drugs, have enabled people with access to treatment to live long and healthy lives with HIV.

- It is widely believed that HIV originated in Kinshasa, in the Democratic Republic of Congo around 1920 when HIV crossed species from chimpanzees to humans. Up until the 1980s, we do not know how many people were infected with HIV or developed AIDS. HIV was unknown and transmission was not accompanied by noticeable signs or symptoms.

What Is HIV?

- HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) is a virus that attacks cells that help the body fight infection, making a person more vulnerable to other infections and diseases. It is spread by contact with certain bodily fluids of a person with HIV, most commonly during unprotected sex (sex without a condom or HIV medicine to prevent infection) or through sharing needles and drug equipment.

WHAT IS HIV?

Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) is a virus that attacks cells that help the body fight infection.

There's no cure, but it is treatable with medicine.

Structure of HIV

HIV- Agent

- It is a RNA virus
- Which replicates in actively dividing T₄ lymphocytes.
- Unique ability to destroy T₄ Helper cells
- Reservoir- Once a person gets infected virus remains in his body lifelong. And the person is a symptomless carrier for years before the symptoms actually appear.

- Source – The virus is found in great concentrations in blood, CSF and semen.
- Lower concentrations have been found in tears, saliva, breast milk, urine, cervical and vaginal secretions.
- Also isolated from brain tissue, lymph nodes, bone marrow cells and skin.
- However only blood and semen are known to transmit the virus.

Epidemiology

- Males>females
- Occurs in all ages and ethnic groups
- All areas of the country are affected
- AIDS is now the second leading cause of death for all men aged 25-44 years
- (Unintended injuries is #1 and heart disease is #3 for this age group)

- If left untreated, HIV can lead to the disease AIDS (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome).
- The human body can't get rid of HIV and no effective HIV cure exists. So, once you have HIV, you have it for life.
- However, by taking HIV medicine (called antiretroviral therapy or ART), people with HIV can live long and healthy lives and prevent transmitting HIV to their sexual partners. In addition, there are effective methods to prevent getting HIV through sex or drug use, including pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) and post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP).
- First identified in 1981, HIV is the cause of one of humanity's deadliest and most persistent epidemics.

- What Is AIDS?
- AIDS is the late stage of HIV infection that occurs when the body's immune system is badly damaged because of the virus.
- In the U.S., most people with HIV do not develop AIDS because taking HIV medicine every day as prescribed stops the progression of the disease.
- A person with HIV is considered to have progressed to AIDS when:
 - the number of their CD4 cells falls below 200 cells per cubic millimeter of blood (200 cells/mm³). (In someone with a healthy immune system, CD4 counts are between 500 and 1,600 cells/mm³.) OR
 - they develop one or more opportunistic infections regardless of their CD4 count.
 - Without HIV medicine, people with AIDS typically survive about 3 years. Once someone has a dangerous opportunistic illness, life expectancy without treatment falls to about 1 year. HIV medicine can still help people at this stage of HIV infection, and it can even be lifesaving. But people who start ART soon after they get HIV experience more benefits—that's why HIV testing is so important.
- How Do I Know If I Have HIV?
- The only way to know for sure if you have HIV is to get tested. Testing is relatively simple. You can ask your health care provider for an HIV test. Many medical clinics, substance abuse programs, community health centers, and hospitals offer them too. You can also buy a home testing kit at a pharmacy or online.
- To find an HIV testing location near you, use the HIV Services Locator.
- HIV self-testing is also an option. Self-testing allows people to take an HIV test and find out their result in their own home or other private location. You can buy a self-test kit at a pharmacy or online. Some health departments or community-based organizations also provide self-test kits for free

How Do You Get or Transmit HIV?

- You can only get HIV by coming into direct contact with certain body fluids from a person with HIV who has a detectable viral load. These fluids are:
 - Blood
 - Semen (cum) and pre-seminal fluid
 - Rectal fluids
 - Vaginal fluids
 - Breast milk

- For transmission to occur, the HIV in these fluids must get into the bloodstream of an HIV-negative person through a mucous membrane (found in the rectum, vagina, mouth, or tip of the penis); open cuts or sores; or by direct injection.
- People with HIV who take HIV medicine daily as prescribed and get and keep an undetectable viral load have effectively no risk of sexually transmitting HIV to their HIV-negative partners.

Host

- Age- Most cases are among sexually active people aged between age 20- 49 years.
- High risk groups-
Male homosexuals, hetero sexual partners, i.v. drug abusers, blood transfusion recipients, haemophiliacs and patients having STDs.

HIV Transmission

- HIV enters the bloodstream through:
 - ^ Open Cuts
 - ^ Breaks in the skin
 - ^ Mucous membranes
 - ^ Direct injection

PARAKRAM DIWAS

Subhash Chandra Bose, also known as Netaji, was one of the greatest sons and patriots of India. He was born in Calcutta on 23rd January 1897. His father, Jankinath Bose, was a well-known lawyer. The name of his mother was Srimati Prabhavati. His parents had a great influence on the boy Subhash. This pride and glory of India, called Subhash Chandra Bose, was a very intelligent and brilliant student. He came out a topper in his intermediate examination.

He passed his B.A in 1919 from Calcutta Presidency College. He went to England for higher studies and passed the I.C.S. Examination. I.C.S. was equivalent to the present IAS examination. But he did not accept any government position. He returned to India and joined the freedom movement. He was influenced by Gandhiji but deferred with him on the question of the method of attaining freedom. He believed that the use of force was necessary to throw out the British.

He was a great revolutionary. The Britishers were afraid of him and confined him to his own house. But he escaped from there and, disguised as a Pathan, reached Europe. There he formed the INA. Later he went to the Far East and joined Japan in his efforts to liberate India. He declared, "Give me blood and I will give you freedom." He gave the famous slogan Jai Hind was a great patriot and freedom fighter and he was very proud of being an Indian.

Bose was the ninth child of a family of 14 and the sixth son of Janakinath Bose, a lawyer of the Kayasth caste. He entered an English School in Cuttack at the age of five and in 1909, was transferred to Ravenshaw Collegiate School. He matriculated from Cuttack in 1913 and joined the Presidency College in Calcutta. His early influences included his headmaster, Beni Madhav Das, and the teachings of Swami Vivekananda and Ramakrishna Paramahansa. The latter brought about a spiritual awakening in the 15-year-old Bose.

At 17, Bose suddenly left his college in Calcutta without a word to his parents and went on a pilgrimage in search of a spiritual guru. After visiting renowned gurus of his day in places such as Rishikesh, Hardwar, Mathura, Brindavan, Varanasi and Gaya, he failed to find a guru whom he could follow and returned to Calcutta utterly disappointed.⁵ By 1916, the rebellious Bose was expelled from Presidency College and banished from Calcutta University over an incident where students attacked English professor, E. F. Oaten. However, he was accepted in Scottish Church College, Calcutta in 1917, graduating with first class honours in philosophy in 1919.⁶ He entered Cambridge University on 9 September 1919 to study for the Indian Civil Service Examination, placing fourth after only eight months of study.⁷ Even so, Bose did not stay long in the civil service, resigning in July 1921 and returning home.⁸

Politics

In India, Bose met with the Indian leaders, Mahatma Gandhi and Chittaranjan Das, and joined the Congress Party. Soon after, Bose and Das were arrested on Christmas day in 1921 for successfully organising a boycott against the Prince of Wales's visit to India, and were sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Upon his release, Bose busied himself with flood relief work, editorial services for the publication Forward in Calcutta and conducting propaganda for the Swaraj Party.

In 1924, Bose was appointed Chief Executive Officer of the Calcutta Corporation at the same time when Das was elected Mayor of Calcutta. Bose was again detained in Mandalay, under the new Bengal Ordinance on 24 October 1924. He was released only two-and-a-half years later on the grounds of ill health, as he was suffering from tuberculosis. From 1928 to 1937, he remained in politics, and was arrested twice by British authorities. He was appointed President of the Indian Congress Party in 1938 but resigned on 28 April 1939. Bose was an advocate of armed resistance against British colonialism; he could not come to terms with the ideology of non-violent resistance that Gandhi advocated. Upon his resignation, he formed the All India Forward Bloc on 3 May 1939, a party within Congress, in an attempt to bring together the leftist faction and to fight Gandhism. He fought a losing battle against both Gandhi and the Congress party for 20 months until he was removed from the presidency of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee and banned from holding any elective office for three years. In March 1940, Bose convened an Anti-Compromise Conference at Ramgarh in Bihar under the joint auspices of the Forward Bloc and Kisan Sabha, and by June of that year, was demanding the establishment of a Provisional National Government in India.

Arrested again on 21 July 1940, Bose this time went on a hunger strike, demanding his release, which came only in December 1940. Despite strict surveillance, Bose managed to escape under the guise of an up-country Muslim gentleman. With the help of the Italian embassy, and travelling under the name of Orlando Mazzota, he reached Germany via Moscow. There he recruited Indian prisoners-of-war in Europe and north Africa to form the Indian Legion (Azad Hind Fauj or Free India Army) to fight for India's freedom. Inspired by his leadership, his followers in Berlin honoured him with the name Bose Netaji, acknowledging his stature as a leader.

Malaya

Bose arrived in Singapore on 2 July 1943 at the invitation of revolutionary freedom fighter Rash Bihari Bose. He was appointed President of the Indian Independence League and took over from Rash Bihari Bose as leader of the Indian Independence League in East Asia. On 21 October 1943, Subhas Chandra Bose proclaimed the formation of the Provisional Government of Free

India at Cathay Cinema Hall. Two days later, he declared war on Britain and the United States.¹⁵ With help from the Japanese, he re-organised and rejuvenated the Azad Hind Fauj (also called the Indian National Army). He lobbied aggressively for funds in Malaya and other parts of Southeast Asia and launched a recruitment drive for the Azad Hind Fauj.

Tapping into the widespread discontent of Indian army personnel in Malaya, especially over the way British officers had abandoned them during their retreat from Singapore, Bose was able to recruit many British Indian troops to the Azad Hind Fauj. On 14 April 1944, he led the Azad Hind Fauj on an offensive against the British in India. Crossing the Burmese border, he planted the Indian National tri-colour flag at Moirang, Manipur. It was a symbol of claiming Indian soil from the British. However, the offensive failed to take Kohima and Imphal and the troops retreated to Burma. The campaign was considered a failure and Bose left for Singapore via Bangkok on 24 April 1944.

Contribution of Netaji to Get Freedom of India

He was extremely dissatisfied with the dejected conditions of the other countrymen for the reason of their awful and brutal behaviour by the Britishers. He was determined to join the nationalist association in the place of the civil service to help the natives of India through its freedom. He was influenced a lot with the loyalist Deshbandhu Chittaranjan Das and was later on chosen as the Mayor of Kolkata and then the President of Indian National Congress. Soon after that he left the party because of the estimation differences with Mahatma Gandhi in 1939. After parting from the congress party, he founded his own Forward Bloc party.

Establishment of Azad Hind Fauj

He supposed that non-violence movement is not adequate to arrive at freedom from the British rule so he chose the opposite; the violence movement to fetch freedom in the nation. He went away to Germany and then to Japan where he made his very own Indian National armed forces, also known as the Azad Hind Fauj. He had incorporated some Indian prisoners of war as well as some Indian inhabitants of those countries in his Azad Hind Fauj to battle courageously against the British rule. He gave catchphrase or a slogan to his army named 'Delhi Chalo' and 'Jai Hind'. He had motivated his army men through his splendid words of "Give me blood and I will give you freedom" to make the land of his birth free from the law of the Britishers.

(Dr. Rajshree Dutta)

● India is a State Party to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (“ICESCR”), which “recognises the right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health”.

- India finds herself in acute health crisis after the lockdown came into force.
- Immunization schedules were cut back on, curbed outpatient and inpatient movement, emergency treatment for serious patients, reduced laboratory experiments as well as less access to mental health treatment.
- The data recovered from various report showed that there was a considerable drop in the delivery of calcium and iron supplements to pregnant women as well as a sharp fall in medical operations concerning the delivery of the child leading to the number of unattended home births shooting up.
- Apart from this, the child immunization hit a rock bottom as at least 11 lakh (approx.) children had not received their BCG vaccination which provides protection against Tuberculosis.
- About 2 lakhs (approx.) missed the rotavirus vaccine. National Health Mission data further shows that medical treatment for inpatient, outpatient as well as emergencies dropped drastically for all diseases.
- The Pandemic also halted the lab investigations and HIV screening for several days.

Brief Sketch about Covid-19

- Natural Calamities impair the growth of an economy.
- In 2019, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention started monitoring the outbreak Covid-19.
- Since then, the virus has spread to other countries, both in and outside Asia, leading the World Health Organization to declare this as a pandemic.
- Social distancing and targeted quarantine measures can succeed only if implemented wherever the virus is spreading (Medical News Today, 2020).

Status of Human Rights during Covid-19 Pandemic

- India has currently faced the largest lockdown in the world, with over 1.3 billion people locked inside their homes.
- While Prime Minister Modi adopted this measures to “win the battle” against the Covid-19 pandemic, a large portion of the country is left wondering if their well-being was also accounted for in the hasty decisions of the Government.
- The first case of the COVID-19 pandemic in India was announced on the 30th of January, 2020 stemming from Wuhan, China.
- Isolation and social distancing became the norm, educational institutions, commercial establishments were shut along with many offices, businesses and companies resorting to work from home.

Status of Human Rights during Covid-19 Pandemic

- As the entire world struggles to contain a common enemy, China, India and Turkey have been accused of gross human right violations during the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Protecting human rights amid the global pandemic has become the need of the hour. As the number of COVID-19 cases increases, human right violations seem to have doubled up.
- According to the UN secretary-general, António Guterres, what had started as a public health emergency was quickly turning into a human rights disaster.
- In its report on COVID-19 and human rights, the UN used the expressions like “foreigner’s disease” to describe the virus, saying such remarks can lead to discrimination, xenophobia, racism and attacks.
- The concern is we are all in this together. To effectively combat the pandemic, we all need to be part of the response (The Eurasian Times).

Brief Sketch about Covid-19

- World Health Organisation (WHO) Chief said that the new coronavirus has been declared as a global emergency, as the outbreak continues to spread outside China at a rampant growth.
- Even World War I and II did not affect as many countries as the corona virus has done.
- India imposed a three-week lockdown at midnight on March 24, giving the public not more than a few hours notice and failure to tackle the pandemic during the shutdown period could take the country '21 years back'.
- The need of the hour is 'flattening the curve'.

The Notion of Human Rights

- Human beings are entitled to certain basic and natural rights that define a meaningful existence.
- The reference point of the conception of human rights can be located in the notion of 'natural rights' that was propounded in the 17th century by philosopher John Locke.
- The American war of independence movement of 1776 and the French Revolution of 1789 were inspired by the ideal of natural rights.
- However it was only in the aftermath of the Second World War that the need to acknowledge and safeguard human rights was articulated at the global level in the form of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948.
- Part III of the Indian Constitution contains Fundamental rights which the Supreme Court of India in the case of Golak Nath vs State of Punjab stated to be the modern version of natural rights.
- However the fundamental rights are not absolute in nature and can be subjected to reasonable restrictions.

To Conclude

- Six mantras
- Protecting people's lives is the priority; protecting livelihoods helps us do it.
- The virus does not discriminate; but its impacts do.
- Involve everyone in your response.
- The threat is the virus, not the people.
- No country can beat this alone.
- When we recover, we must be better than we were before.

To Conclude

- India is at a crucial juncture in its fight against Covid-19 as well as uphold the human rights.
- The mantra ‘Jaan hai toh Jahaan hai’ is modified into ‘Jaan bhi Jahaan bhi’ meaning at first priority was given to life rather than livelihood but the need of the hour is to protect both life and livelihood.
- Maintaining social distance and by staying at home and staying safe.
- Then only the phrase mentioned in the Preamble of the Indian Constitution as “We the People of India” will be meaningful and the fight against the pandemic Covid-19 may be championed with a sense of collective responsibility.
